Product Description

Product Description:

Product Overview: Rigid Packaging Box

The Rigid Packaging Box is a custom paper packaging box that is perfect for various products such as jewelry, cosmetics, and small gifts. This cardboard jewelry packaging box is designed to provide a sturdy and elegant packaging solution for your products.

Coating Side: Single Side

The Rigid Packaging Box comes with a single side coating that adds an extra layer of protection and enhances the overall appearance of the box. The coating also makes it easier to clean and maintain the box, ensuring that your products are always presented in their best condition.

Finishing: Optional

The finishing of the Rigid Packaging Box is optional and can be customized according to your preferences. You can choose from various finishing options such as matte, glossy, or textured finish to give your box a unique and eye-catching look.

Printing: Offset Printing

The Rigid Packaging Box uses offset printing, which is a high-quality printing method that produces sharp and vibrant colors. This printing technique ensures that your branding and product information are displayed clearly and attractively on the box.

Color: Customizable

The Rigid Packaging Box offers customizable color options to match your brand's color scheme or product theme. You can choose from a wide range of colors to create a visually appealing and cohesive packaging for your products.

Production Time: 10-15 Days

The Rigid Packaging Box has a production time of 10-15 days, which is relatively fast compared to other packaging options. This allows you to receive your packaging boxes within a reasonable time frame, ensuring that your products can be shipped and delivered to customers promptly.

Ecommerce Packaging Boxes

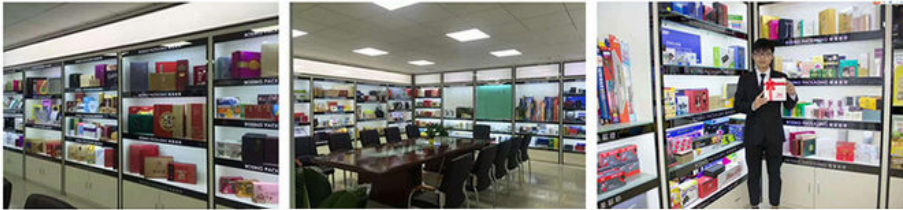

The Rigid Packaging Box is an ideal choice for ecommerce businesses. It is durable, lightweight, and can be easily shipped and stored. With its customizable design and high-quality printing, it is an excellent option for creating an impactful unboxing experience for your online customers.

Packing and Shipping:

Packaging:

The Rigid Packaging Box will be carefully packaged in a sturdy cardboard box lined with protective foam. The box will be sealed with packing tape to ensure the safety of the product during shipping.

Inside the cardboard box, the Rigid Packaging Box will be wrapped in bubble wrap to provide an extra layer of protection. Any additional space in the box will be filled with packing peanuts to prevent the product from shifting during transit.

A label with the recipient's address and shipping information will be affixed to the outside of the box for easy identification and delivery.

Shipping:

The Rigid Packaging Box will be shipped via a reliable and trusted shipping carrier, such as FedEx or UPS. The shipping method will be selected based on the destination and delivery time required.

Once the package is shipped, a tracking number will be provided to the customer so they can monitor the status of their shipment. The package will be insured for the full value of the Rigid Packaging Box to protect against any potential damages during transit.

We strive to ensure prompt delivery of our products, however, please note that delivery times may vary depending on the shipping carrier and destination.
